

Cegos Switzerland is growing

Cegos Swiss (www.cegos.ch) has an availability as a full-time

Management Consultant & Trainer

(female/male)

You:

- A proven and documented experience of at least 5 years in designing and delivering face to face Management & Leadership training curricula in English
- Expertise in Instructional Design using a wide variety of training methods and tools in close collaboration with domain experts and stake holders
- Subject Matter Expertise in at least 2 areas: Management, Leadership, L&D, Interpersonal Skills
- Significant hands-on experience as a Manager in an international, global context
- Excellent verbal and written communication, project management skills in an international, multi-cultural environment with virtual teams
- Excellent English and French language skills, which allow you to write error free documents in English and/or French, both being an asset. Mother tongue English or French
- Excellent client facing skills

The challenge:

- Responsibility for designing, delivering and managing the implementation of Learning solutions and services with a team of specialists to our top Customers in Switzerland
- Interface with the Customer team and the Cegos teams to best understand the requirements and deliver the services in a high quality and timely fashion
- The production and co-production of high quality Learning programs to impact selected KPIs
- Successful team coordination for the implementation of Learning services and solutions with respect to defined requirements, scope, timeline and budget
- Wide variety of learning solution subjects: HR-Performance development, Management & Leadership, Sales, Negotiation, Project Management, Interpersonal skills, Purchasing

Us:

- A very international environment and activity: more than 50% of our projects are international and the majority of our services are delivered outside of Switzerland
- High level contacts: our Customer contacts are Global or Regional Managers
- Teamwork: creating value and delivering together in partnership with the Cegos group of companies, partners and global network of consultants and trainers
- Team spirit: a young challenging team able and willing to grow with the fast paced future of Learning
- High quality living environment: based in or near our Geneva office with travel in Switzerland
- Skiing, sailing, hiking, dancing, wine tasting, biking and our children are just some of the activities our team members enjoy when they are not working

What's next?

- If you are ready to take the next step with us, please contact us directly at job@cegos.ch with your complete CV and letter of motivation